

In these pages are the stories of the men and women who were the early pioneers of the atomic age at Hanford, Washington. The feats they accomplished were amazing.

William (Bill) M. Compton
DuPont Badge THX-35

When William (Bill) Compton arrived at Hanford, he was issued badge notice that his colleagues. Their stories and experiences are amazing stories and accounts. Bill conducted personal interviews and memories on audio tapes.

Bill Compton contributed to this book and Edgar's support, transcribing all the interviews and conducting interviews with a commitment to Bill's hard work and the men who were forgotten. Without Bill's book would never have been

Memories of Early Atomic Pioneers

Memories of early atomic pioneers of the Atomic Energy Commission Hanford Engineering Works

William M. Compton

Memories of Early Atomic Pioneers

by William M. Compton

can be purchased in the

Mary Ellen Powers
Museum Store
at The REACH!